

SEE THE VIRAL DELUSION - A NEW DOCUMENTARY SERIES

“Immensely important and beautifully made.” Dr. John Bevin-Smith

See this fascinating new documentary series, which features the growing group of doctors and scientists dismantling the illusion of virus theory to understand the real causes of disease - from The Great Plague to Polio, AIDS and COVID.

From Hollywood filmmaker Mike Wallach - this is a must-see five-episode, seven-hour series.

“Absolutely incredible and incredibly important” - Dr. Sam Bailey. “Amazing. Should be translated into every language in the world” - Dr. Vinnie Costa.

In Episode One, the doctors, scientists and journalists featured in THE VIRAL DELUSION examine in detail the scientific papers that were used to justify the pandemic, and what they find is shattering: They explode every single major claim, from the "isolation" of the virus to its so-called genetic sequencing, from the discovery of how to "test" for SARS-CoV2 to the emergence of "variants" that in reality, they explain, exist only on a computer.

Their point: The so-called SARS-CoV-2 virus exists only as a mental construct whose existence in the real world has been disproven by the science itself.

They then go back through history to reveal how the birth and growth of virology has led to massive misunderstanding and misdiagnosis of disease: from Smallpox to the Spanish Flu, Polio to AIDS, to COVID itself - Putting the pandemic in a whole new context better understood not as settled science, but the tragic culmination of misunderstood biology by the growing cult of virology, built on pseudoscience, to which much of the rest of the medical profession defers without understanding or examination, and the tragic consequences that have been wrought in its name.
